HEART MATTERS

The identity on the dog tag is more than what it reads. It represents who they embody and how they are called to be a representative for a nation. Many hold the burdens, not only for their country, but for many countries.

Holding the burdens of each experience you're not able to reach, but feeling like you did, tears a person apart at the seams. Holding strong to serve is the road walked, but the burdens to carry are often weighing more than the rucksack. Ascended Master Saint Jacqueline, will help you know the road of trust you chose by accepting healing in this way.

Sacred Healing is a gentle healing for blocked or deepened energy, driving addictions and prolonging recovery.

Facilitated forces veteran support centers are working, but with the addition of sacred healing from myself, the recovery period shortens for PTSD, and the future possibilities open up once more.

WHAT WORKS?

- *Belief healing is possible.
- *Being open to receive healing for the unknown in connection to serving.
- *The desire for freedom being bigger than the fear of vulnerability.
- *Knowing survival instinct needs the deepened energy as a reminder, but thriving uses the knowledge, not the depth of darkness that became.
